Anna Davidson Rosenberg Awards for Poems on the Jewish Experience

Postmark Deadline: December 1, 2008

Established in 1987 by the Judah L. Magnes Museum and the children of Anna Davidson Rosenberg, a community volunteer who came to California at the turn of the 20th century, the Anna Davidson Rosenberg Award annually awards cash prizes for poems on the Jewish experience. A total of $3,000 in prize money will be awarded to winners in 1st place, 2nd place, and honorable mention categories. Winners will be announced the first week of March 2009 on our website. An awards ceremony and public reading will take place at the JCCSF in April 2009.

Eligibility Requirements:

- Poems must address in some way the theme of the Jewish experience
- Poems must be original, unpublished works by a single author
- Poetry must be written in the English language

The Anna Davidson Rosenberg Awards are open to writers of all ages, ethnicities, religious backgrounds and affiliations. Awards are not restricted to authors who are citizens or residents of the United States. Published writers are not given preference over unpublished writers. You are eligible to reapply if you submitted work in previous years.

To Apply:

To apply, please submit in quadruplicate a maximum of three (3) original, unpublished poems of no more than ten pages (10) total in length, plus one (1) application coversheet. Please, no staples; paperclips are fine.

The coversheet should include the following information in numbered order:

1. Name (First, Last)
2. Mailing address (street, city, state, zip, country)
3. Telephone number (if int'l please use country code)
4. Email address
6. Finally, please tell us how you heard about the Anna Davidson Rosenberg Awards for Poems on the Jewish Experience.

As poems are judged anonymously, please do not include personal data on the poems themselves.

Send four (4) sets of your materials postmarked no later than December 1, 2008 to:
